A Welcome Message from Diversity Summit Co-Chair

Joanna Nolte
Equal Opportunity and US D&I Manager, Shell Oil Company

May 4, 2018

Dear Summit Participants and Guests:

Welcome to the 18th annual Diversity Summit, celebrating diversity and inclusion in the Greater Houston area. Shell is honored to continue our long-standing sponsorship of the Summit, and partner with its dedicated team of organizers at the Association of Chinese American Professionals. Special thanks to Cecil Fong, Shell retiree, for his leadership with this event.

Shell is an international energy company with expertise in the exploration, production, refining and marketing of oil and natural gas, and the manufacturing and marketing of chemicals. Our strategy is to strengthen our position as a leading energy company by providing oil and gas and low-carbon energy as the world’s energy system changes. Safety and social responsibility are fundamental to our business approach.

This year’s theme of ‘Winning through Inclusion’ resonates strongly with us. At Shell, we believe that when our differences are valued and respected, people are more comfortable speaking up and contributing. It is through this rich dialogue that we can add more business value for our organization, and enjoy a more engaging work environment.

Along with Co-Chair, Dr. Antonio Tillis, we are also proud to recognize the 2018 Diversity Summit Champion Award recipients:

- Nancy Levicki, President and Co-Founder, Dress for Success Houston - Community Diversity Champion
- Stanley Kazibwe, Marketing and Business Development Associate, Bechtel – Corporate Diversity Champion

Through their leadership, Nancy and Stanley continue building diverse communities in Greater Houston and make a meaningful impact in people’s lives. We are grateful for their vision and dedication.

We look forward to your active participation today, and hope that you take away new perspectives and appreciation for the value of diversity and inclusion; both the impact it can make in organizations, and the difference it can make to us as individuals.

Best wishes,

Joanna Nolte
Equal Opportunity and US D&I Manager, Shell Oil Company
Dear Summit Participants and Guests:

Welcome to the 18th Annual Diversity Summit! On behalf of the University of Houston's College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences (CLASS), I want to extend my sincerest thanks to Mr. Cecil Fong, the Association of Chinese American Professionals and Niya Blair, director of the Center for Diversity and Inclusion at UH, for their leadership and commitment to organizing such a meaningful event, which brings together people from across all sectors of Greater Houston to promote diversity and inclusion in the workplace.

UH and CLASS are committed to continuing our longstanding partnership with the Summit and the association's amazing team of professionals who seek to remind all of us of the importance of collaboration and the celebration of diversity.

As dean of CLASS, I oversee 14 academic departments and programs, which is the largest and most diverse of the 15 academic colleges on the campus. CLASS has a graduating population of more than 11,000 students annually and over 600 faculty members.

In CLASS, we are fortunate to have academic units that are a reflection of our rich diversity and inclusion across the UH campus, such as the Department of Modern and Classical Languages (MCL), which is home to the Chinese Studies Program. MCL provides students with a wonderful opportunity to experience the rich heritage and cultures of Asia, Europe, and Latin America. Additionally, the African American Studies Program and the Women's, Gender, & Sexuality Studies Program have a focus that celebrates diversity and inclusion within the faculty, curriculum, programming and community engagement.

This year's theme "Winning through Inclusion" resonates throughout CLASS as we seek to demonstrate our continual efforts to bridge communities throughout our academic community and across the city of Houston.

In closing, I consider it an honor to represent UH as an Honorary Co-Chair along with Joanna Nolte of the Shell Oil Company for this year's Diversity Summit. Congratulations to the 2018 Diversity Summit Champion Award recipients, Stanley Kazibwe and Nancy Levicki, for their stellar contributions to our community.

Cordially,

Antonio D. Tillis, Dean
College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, and M. D. Anderson Professor in Hispanic Studies

<td>Every year, organizations allocate time, resources, and budget towards efforts to foster an inclusive culture—and interest is still increasing. Yet, through survey results, Deloitte discovered that there often remains a disconnect between the expectations of today’s workforce and inclusion in organizations. Deloitte surveyed more than 1,300 full-time employees from a range of different sized organizations and industries across the United States to discover what today’s workforce values in an inclusive culture. We explored whether inclusion impacts attraction and career choices, what today’s workforce prioritizes in an inclusive culture, and what organizations can do to advance inclusion now and in the future.</td>

Most organizations express the benefits of human capital differences, predicated on the assumption that diversity and inclusion (D&I) sparks innovation, insights, and makes us stronger. What then are some of the winning strategies or lessons learned? How are these D&I initiatives and the return on their investment measured? Do organizations have a moral responsibility to invest in D & I to ensure social justice? How does the generational gap among the workforce, the #MeToo movement, and gender income inequality play into the D&I program? The esteemed panelists will explore some of these issues and share what the commitment to D&I mean to them.

Lynn Winstead, Assistant Director, EY Assist, EY

EY (formerly Ernst & Young) works to create a culture allowing each person to contribute fully to our success. This means that we value the contributions of people from all backgrounds and perspectives. In this session, you will learn about EY’s strategy to promote an abilities inclusive culture driving innovation and exceptional service for its clients. Viewed from three unique perspectives, this session will show how the Americas & Regional strategic resources, EY’s Employee Assistance Program, and grass-roots participation by the local Professional Network leaders, blend to paint a picture of inclusion in the abilities space within EY.

Session B:
“Are Employee Resource Groups Still Relevant?” Sugar Land Ballroom VI

Chair:
John Sequeira, CEO, TL One Partner

Speakers:
Eliza Horn, Lead Communications Consultant, D&I, Deloitte
Kevin Edwards, Global Lead, Culture, Inclusion, and Diversity, Bechtel
Laura Granger, HR Director, Texas and South West Area, McDonald’s USA
Vani Rao, Director Diversity & Inclusion, BP
Deborah Wilkins, Senior Equal Opportunity Consultant, Shell US

Employee Resource Groups (or Networks) have been a component of successful Diversity and Inclusion initiatives for decades. However, some organizations are rethinking or restructuring the groups to stay relevant and finding new ways to add value. Join us for this provocative session and hear how multiple corporations across a variety of industries are adapting their Resource Group structures to meet the ever-changing demands of their respective organizations.

Session C:
“Gender 101 – Shedding Light on Gender Identity” Sugar Land Ballroom IX-X

Chairs:
Elaine Decanio, Consultant
Niya Blair, Director, Center for Diversity and Inclusion, University of Houston

Speaker:
Shelley Roth, President, Springboard Ventures

Based on first-hand, real-world experience, combined with decades of practical business expertise, Shelley Roth tells their story and brings clarity to an often-confusing topic. By the end of this session attendees will:

- Increase understanding of what gender means
- Have an awareness and sensitivity on how and why to address all customers and patrons in an inclusive manner, including those across and beyond the gender spectrum
- Discover why businesses and organizations cannot afford to misgender customers, prospects, and clientele
- Gain understanding of the difference in gender, biological sex, and sexual orientation

This workshop is for anyone wanting a broader understanding of gender, as well as longtime transgender advocates seeking to grow in understanding of gender variations and gender non-binaries.

Diversity Summit Co-Chairs

Joanna Nolte
Manager, Equal Opportunity and US Diversity & Inclusion, Shell Oil

An experienced Human Resources Manager with 20 years at Shell, and 10 years with other large corporations. Joanna’s roles have been varied and include both specialty roles in compensation, benefits, policy, talent, as well as generalist roles. Currently, she works to ensure conformity across Shell in the US with Equal Opportunity requirements, as well as D&I activities to leverage Shell’s Employee Resource Groups, partnering with external organizations to foster D&I, incorporate best practices, and raise awareness and skills to leverage D&I.

Joanna also serves as an advisory board member for the Institute for Workplace Equality. Throughout her career, she has strived to partner with the business, assist individuals in achieving rewarding careers, and enjoyed being part of a large organization where the collective efforts of many can produce amazing results – particularly when the culture is positive and inclusive, allowing people to reach their potential.
Diversity Summit Co-Chairs

Dr. Antonio D. Tillis
Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, and M. D. Anderson Professor in Hispanic Studies
University of Houston

Dr. Antonio D. Tillis is the dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences and M. D. Anderson Professor in Hispanic Studies at the University of Houston. He received his Ph.D. in Latin American literature with an Afro-Hispanic emphasis from the University of Missouri, his M.A. in Spanish literature from Howard University, and a B.S. in Spanish from Vanderbilt University.

As dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, he oversees 14 schools and departments. The college is the largest and most diverse of the 15 academic colleges on the UH campus, with a graduating population of more than 11,000 students annually, and 600 faculty members.

A native of Memphis, Tennessee, he served as dean of the School of Languages, Cultures and World Affairs at the College of Charleston. Prior to his appointment, he was a distinguished international visiting scholar at the University of the West Indies in Mona, Jamaica, and has developed relationships with numerous universities in Brazil, Columbia, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, France, Peru, Trinidad, Jamaica, Sweden, France, England, Costa Rica, Peru, Ghana, China and Spain.

Dr. Tillis is a nationally and internationally acclaimed scholar and author with specializations in Latin American, Afro-Latin American, and African Diaspora literature.

From 2009 to 2014, he served as chair, African and African-American Studies, at Dartmouth College. From 2008 to 2009, he served as the inaugural chair of Latin American and Latino Studies at Purdue University.

Dr. Tillis is the recipient of numerous awards, including the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Office of Black Student Advising; the Professor of the Year Faculty Recognition Award from the Office of Pluralism and Leadership at Dartmouth College; the Internationalization Innovator Award from the Purdue University Office of International Programs and Study Abroad; and the Professor of the Year Award from the Black Caucus of Purdue University Faculty and Staff.

Stanley Kazibwe
Marketing and Business Development Associate – LNG
Bechtel

Stanley is a globally astute and geographically mobile Business Development / Strategy & Supply Chain Professional within the global energy industry. He has built and managed business /supplier relationships within various functions in a globally integrated supply chain.

Before joining Bechtel, he worked as a Sales and Marketing Development Coordinator with Black & Decker / DeWalt (now Stanley-Black & Decker), in Tampa, Florida. Stanley holds Bachelor of Arts degrees in Business Management from Texas Southern University and an MBA from Rice University Jones School of Business.

As Chair of Diversity Advisory Council (DAC) at Bechtel, Stanley was instrumental in Bechtel being named as 2017 Corporate Partner of the Year by both Society of Hispanic Professional Engineers – Houston and by National Society of Black Engineers – Houston. Both groups seek to inspire and empower underrepresented communities to pursue excellence through STEM professions. In addition, Stanley has been an incredible change agent for the advancement of D&I in Bechtel:

- Supported recruiting efforts at the 2016 and 2017 SHPE/ NSBE National Conferences
- Promoted and facilitated energy industry and Bechtel discussions on Diversity and Inclusion.
- Received 2017 Distinguished Alumni of Year Award from Black Business Students Association at Rice University Jones School of Business.
- Hosted SHPE Houston's award-winning professional, career, and leadership development events including "Interviewing Skills Workshop for engineers", "Empowering and Inspiring", and "Inclusive Leadership — Eliminating Micro Indignities".
- Named as one of the 2016 - 40 under 40 Professionals by Alumni Association of Texas Southern University
- Served as K-12 Advocate through NSBE SEEK/ Big Brother Big Sisters/ and ACE Mentoring
- Engaged with Bechtel OG&C and faith-based organizations, to assist with Harvey Relief.

Stanley’s passion for Diversity and Inclusion is evident. He is always willing to help others and share his insights and has inspired other colleagues to become more involved in this critical mission.
In the summer of 1998, Nancy Levicki put her fashion skills back to work, but this time, it was not for a major retail specialty store. Nancy’s background as the couture buyer for Sakowitz was the perfect backdrop for her drive to help low-income, Houston area women enter the job market looking and feeling their best. Nancy, Susie Cunningham and a small group of founding Board members opened the first Dress for Success in the state of Texas. Twenty years later, Dress for Success Houston has provided more than 75,000 units of service to 40,000 underprivileged women in Houston.

In 2012, under Nancy’s leadership, Dress for Success Houston completed a successful $6.7 million capital campaign and moved into a stunning 16,600 sq. ft. building conveniently located in the Upper Kirby District at 3310 Eastside Street. Houston is proud to be the first and only affiliate, worldwide, to purchase land and build a permanent facility. 2018 marks the 20th anniversary of Dress for Success Houston, and Nancy is proud to have co-founded an agency committed to addressing the needs of women of all ethnicities in our community.

Some of Nancy’s accolades include:

- Recognized as a “Woman Who Means Business” by Houston Business Journal,
- Humanitarian Award by the American Red Cross,
- Named a “Woman on the Move” by Texas Executive Women,
- Named one of the fifty most influential women in Houston by Woman Magazine,
- “Woman of Courage Award” from the Houston Chapter of Hadassah,
- Named one of “Houston’s Treasures” at The Social Book’s annual recognition for Houstonians in philanthropy, and
- Featured in KHOU’s “Stand for Houston” series.

ACAP is an association of Chinese American professionals with a wide variety of expertise including engineering, science, health care, business, humanity, and arts and culture. Founded in 1978, and currently with a total membership of approximately 300, the ACAP recruits its members from, but not limited to, the states of Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

In 2001, the ACAP, in collaboration with JPMorgan Chase, Shell Oil Company and Marathon Oil Company, organized the inaugural Diversity Summit annual conference. This annual conference has since gained wider support and attendance from other major corporations and organizations in the greater Houston area.

As a non-profit organization, the ACAP strives to foster the professional development and fellowship among its members, to facilitate the development of leadership skills of Chinese Americans professionals, and to address various issues that Chinese American professionals faced in the workplace.

In order to encourage professional advancement of the members, the ACAP regularly hosts technical seminars and workshops with various professional disciplines throughout the year. The flagship activity is the Science, Engineering and Technology Seminars (SETS) held in Houston in the spring/summer of each year. SETS usually draw 200 to 300 participants. These seminars, workshops and conferences are multidisciplinary, and often involve guest speakers from other states and foreign countries.
